

Who are we?

Since 1989, Delta Systems, Inc. has been one of the pioneers in the document imaging market, providing information storage and retrieval solutions to many satisfied customers. We are committed to developing, delivering and supporting information management software to help the client reduce business costs, increase employee productivity and generate better customer service.

Whom do we serve?

Recent unprecedented advances in efficiency, speed and success of document processing have enabled us to offer our software to a divergent clientele base: We can meet the needs of small and large organizations in a broad variety of industries and sectors. Specifically, our software customizes methods of imaging and indexing to streamline document management within any of several specialized fields: Financial Services; Manufacturing; Health; Government; Education; Distribution; Utilities and others.

Our products are versatile insofar as they can meet the needs of such a broad range of users. Indeed, at the heart of the success of Delta Systems' products is our ability to enable storage and retrieval of documents simply and cost-effectively using state of the art imaging technology. Applications can be created in minutes and require no programming. Further, documents of all types can be scanned, imported, indexed and saved to the client's media of choice.

What do we offer?

Delta Systems software recognizes the users' need to work with and locate hard copy information. Therefore, clients can use the following core software products to simplify their filing process and reduce their filing time: DeltaDOCK (affordable document imaging for standalone and LAN/WAN applications); Common features include the following: Standalone or Network service; go-to-page option; attach to Windows document option; batch scanning; import/export options, barcode option; image enhancement, and many more.

What are the benefits?

In addition to simplifying and reducing filing time, Delta Systems products also demonstrate the tremendous value of storing information digitally. Rather than resorting to physically sorting paper, microfilm, or microfiche for a particular document, instead users can summon that selected document electronically in seconds from vast digital stores. On what specifications is our software based? Our software is developed using standard, off-the-shelf products: Visual Basic, Microsoft Windows, Kofax and Microsoft SQL Server, and Access databases for storing and retrieving both images and data.

How do we do business?

Recognizing the benefits of partnership, Delta Systems has cultivated a core list of resellers, each positioned to provide the client with quality imaging software and technical support: Please call us or check our web site for a reseller in your area.

Why consider Delta Systems software?

One of the most useful benefits our clients have discovered is that our software is easily configured to meet their needs. For example, in a business application, if a client wants a certain type of indexing for Accounts Payable, we can enable it. Also, if a manufacturing company wishes to take its office information management software into the plant, our software will accommodate that expansion.

If you choose Delta Systems software for your management needs, we will set up for you a customized system design, install your system, train your staff and provide on-going support.

Clearly, our products are versatile and flexible:
They deliver the right information to the right place at the right time.
